

CHAPTER 5

Cadet Appointment and Rotation

Policy. Selection of the Cadet Wing Commander, subordinate commanders, and their staffs is dictated by the organizational structure of the unit. NV-20011 is organized as a Cadet Wing.

The SASI considers the strengths and weaknesses of the individual cadets in assigning them to positions where they can gain the greatest leadership benefits.

To ensure an equitable appointment and rotation system, cadets are assigned to leadership positions on a semester basis (i.e., after the 1st semester, most cadet wing and flight staff positions will change).

Criteria. Nominees for all wing/group/squadron/flight staff positions must have satisfactorily completed the following prerequisites:

- Show good followership and leadership traits.
- Exhibit outstanding military customs and courtesies.
- Have passing grades in all Palo Verde classes.
- Maintain a 2.0 GPA in JROTC.
- No Ns or Us in any PVHS course.

- Eligible for promotion.
- Successfully completed the drill sequence for their Year-Group.

Cadets may be removed from their staff position and/or demoted for:

- Failure to maintain the above criteria.
- Violation of the Core Values.
- Violation of the Cadet Honor Code.
- Or for any other reason determined by the SASI.

Selection process.

At the beginning of each semester, the SASI solicits candidates for the Cadet Wing Commander position. Candidates submit a one page “talking paper” containing a brief biographical sketch, reason(s) for wanting the position, goals to be accomplished during their tenure, and recommendations for key wing staff positions.

Then, the SASI and ASIs select the most qualified candidate. With the concurrence of the SASI, the prospective wing commander will select their wing staff members.

Flight Commanders and Flight Sergeants are selected by the SASI and ASIs.

Special Team Commanders are selected by the SASI/ASI team advisor.

Element Leaders are selected by the Flight Commanders (with the concurrence of the SASI and ASIs).
